Foreword

This book is offered, in the absence of the Chilhowean, as a sincere appreciation of a cheerful, hopeful and patriotic College Life during the uncertainties of war. Though simple in design, and inexpensive in material, it has been our one desire to portray herein such phases of College Life as will become elaborate in meaning and priceless in memory.

To the Flag of service which holds the precious memory of Maryville College boys and
To Old Glory whose honor, fame and chastity these boys defend, this book is dedicated.

The Two Flags

PRAYER FOR MARYVILLE'S SOLDIER AND SAILOR BOYS

By Pres. S. T. Wilson.

1. Our fathers' God to Thee,
Author of liberty,
To Thee we sing:
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King.

2. Our boys have heard Thy call,
And pledged to Thee their all
Lest freedom die.
Oh, gird them for the fight;
By them the wrong requite,
By them to right give might,
O Lord Most High.

3. With loving hearts we pray:
Shield them by night, by day;
Their lives defend.
From hurtling death's dread blast,
From fields of carnage vast,
Bring them safe home at last,
When war shall end.

4. But, if Thy holy call
Doom them in arms to fall
Where freedom's won,
We yield them unto Thee,
Rejoiced that they, as He,
Dared die to make men free;
Thy will be done.

SENIOR POEM

A SONG OF YOUTH

Oh its good to be young, and its good to be strong,
And its good to have blood warm and red,
And its good start with a song in the heart
On the long white road ahead!

Oh we're young and we're strong, there's a lilt in our song
And the breezes of May blow 'round us,
And our eyes are bright with a hopeful light,
For we've a strong faith to guide us.

Oh we've faith in ourselves and faith in man
And faith in Journey's End,
And we'll live and love and we'll hope and be strong
And to man we'll be a friend.
So
When dark is the day, and rough the way,
A strong young arm we'll lend,
For we've faith in ourselves and faith in man
And faith in Journey's End,

Oh its good to be young and its good to be strong,
And its good to have blood warm and red,
And its good to start with a song in the heart
On the long white road ahead!

—L. G. G.

HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS

As the Seniors of 1918 pause for a moment, before taking leave of the old hill, to look back upon the years that are gone, there is a pride that comes to every heart, a merit that lives not so much in honors received or the succsses won, but in the true worth and ability of each member of the class.

The printed page of results cannot tell the whole of the story. The memory of a class life shaken by disapointments but ever reverting to the struggle; the recollections of a thousand bitter and happy moments, testing and proving the friendship of classmates, of seconds of discord and years of harmony—these things must remain ever the cherished secret of those who suffered and triumphed in them.

Chance has been very kind to the class of 1918. To have called so many classmates to the war is to a large degree compensated by having placed so much talent in one class. Manifestly the Seniors have formed a class of action as well as of talent.

Activities.

The weekly paper of the college, "The Highland Echo", had for its editor, first, Turner, later Taylor, and Scruggs was manager. The class of '18 published the annual for the Senior Class of last year, Miss Knapp was editor and Truner manager. Anderson and Scruggs are editor and manager for the record book of 1918.

A number of oratorical contests have been won by Seniors. Miss Simpson won the State Prohibition contest. The intercollegiate debaters from the senior class are: Williams, Turner, Logan, Cooper, Lloyd and Dawson.

Five of the Varsity Eleven this year were Seniors: Bryson, Cooper, Lloyd. Scruggs, and Garrison. The manager and captain of the basketball team was Garrison. Five of the baseball nine were: Scruggs, Bryson, Cooper, Lloyd and Dawson. Varsity Tennis men were: Lloyd and Dawson.

In 1915 the class furnished a twelve piece orchestra. This year, the Senior Mixed Quartet has given concerts in Tennessee and adjoining states for the benefit of the war relief funds. The personel is as follows: Margaret Bassett, soprano; Josephine Knapp, alto; Roy Anderson, tenor; and Horace Dawson, bass. Misses Genieveve Gibson and Mary Miles are popular soloists on the "hill".

The class of '18 has done its part for the cause of humanity. It has sent ten splendid specimens of young manhood to "hunt the Huns" until peace is restored and the cause is won for the just. Never before in the history of the college have so many volunteered to fight, unselfishly giving up their chances for class honor and sacrificing their joy at graduating from college for the sake of their country. To be able to contribute so many men of good physique and mental calibre to the cause is held by the class as its greatest honor.

The morning before the Senior volunteers said goodbye to the "hill", the class met in front of Pearsons Hall and each member raised his hand in promise that if possible, he or she would return to the college on the commencement week following the end of the war, to join in a class reunion. It will be a thrilling moment when some day the survivors of the struggle will shake hands with their comrades and classmates on the old College Hill and will talk together of the days that have passed.

The 'To Be' is full of hope and promise and its call finds a welcome response in twenty-five young lives. Together in school they have proven their merit, separated in the world they will show the same industry, loyalty to principle, and altruism. To pleasantly startle the musical world in the days to come, the class will contribute, Misses Margaret Bassett, Genevieve Gibson and Josephine Knapp. Misses Mary Miles and Mamie Wilson will go from our number as missionaries to the Foreign Field. Those who will be teachers are: Misses Simpson, Brocklehurst, Fisher and Moseley. Someday Cooper and Taylor will be practicing physicians. Scruggs will hold an important Secretaryship in Commerce. In the halls of Science will be found prominent, Anderson, Bryson, Webster, Garrison and Watkins. Logan, Richards, Jordon and Ferntheil will be worthy ministers of the Gospel. The lawyers furnished by the class of '18 will be Turner, Williams, Lloyd and Dawson.

In a word of farewell let the Senior Class speak once more of its debt to Maryville College. However, the hand of fortune may surprise the world by uncovering here some latent talent or fanning into a blaze there the smoldering emblem of genious or showering rewards upon a persistant effort, all credit of success must return to the one source, our Alma Mater. Whatever worth to the world is done by the class of '18,it will be but the reflection of the great light on the old Hill that has been shining for a century, and which the fingers of grateful men and the hand of a just God will keep gleaning more brightly thru the coming days.

The course in Expression consists of three years' individual instruction, and class lessons for the same period of time of study in "Natural Drills in Expression" by Phillips, Shakespeare, Bible Study, Dramatization, Pantomine and Story Telling. The course in Public Speaking consists of individual lessons for two years and class lessons for the same period of time in Natural Drills in Expression", Shakespeare and Bible Reading, and in connection with this, a course in Public Speaking under Dr. Hoyt. The student before graduating in either course must have completed sixteen units of Preparatory Work, including at least two units in foreign language, and four units of English, and College Courses in English 1, 2, 3, 5 and 6.

The Department of Expression and Pubilc Speaking is one of the strongest departments on the Hill and is growing constantly. This has been one of its most successful years.

Besides the afternoon recitals which have been given monthly by the Department, the students have filled many engagements for the benfit of church and social organizations of the town and county. In the fall term the Department gave a recital at the M. E. Church, the proceeds going to the Epworth League. Also the four-act play "Daddy-Long-Legs", by Webster, was given by the Dramatization Class in Voorhees Chapel. The class was asked to repeat the play at a latter date at the Palace Theatre for the benefit of the local Red Cross.

A number of the students have gone to the surrounding towns and counties with the Food Conservation speakers and assisted with the programs. For Educational Rallies and Conventions where readers have been demanded the Department has always answered the requests.

A graduate of the Expression Department, Mr. Logan won first prize in the Prohibition Oratorical Contest, and a graduate of the Public Speaking Department, Miss Gail Wilson, won second prize.

There are eight graduates this year—five from the Department of Expression, and three from the Department of Public Speaking.

From the Department of Expression:

HOME ECONOMICS

"Conservation and Traiinng for Service" has been the underlying principle of the Senior Class in Home Economics. The class has taken its senior year very seriously and each girl has earnestly tried to fit herself for service during this next war year. The latest news from the camps is: "Eat 1919 Christmas dinner in the U. S. A." The class, while not planning for that dinner, nevertheless, are hoping for it and they surely could cook it.

The year's work has been along lines that gave the class its principle. Government bulletins on food conservation and substitutes have largely replaced text books. Many demonsrated lectures have been given by the 1918 students before the class and the "Tuesday" and "Eight Weeks" clubs. Special study has been given to the professional demonstrations by the head of the department, and by state, and county demonstrators. All this has kept us in close touch with government work. The girls are planning to make use of this in their teaching courses and in demonstration work, that some have intended to do this summer. The class expects to serve in the way most emphasized, for women, by the government, and by Mr. Hoover.

The sewing class was slightly modified to meet war conditions; some time being spent knitting, like many organizations during this past year, the economics department has been privileged to make a Service Flag, and also the Stars and Stripes, both of which hang in Voorhees Chapel, and while a constant reminder of our own boys who have gone, also gives us some thing definite to work for on the "hill".

The class has conserved along other lines. The graduation dresses are to be white Hoover uniforms. All entertaining was dispensed with, except a dinner party for the college seniors. Very simple graduation exercises are being planned. They are to be of an informal nature and to be given in the afternoon on Baldwin lawn.

The 1918 class has organized a Home Economics Association. It is primarily for the discussion and study of subjects related to the department. Since it is made up of the best talent of both societies, and has a definite aim, much good will be realized. It will supply a long felt need of the department.

Vice-President Bainonian '18

A shaft of sunlight shot from Georgia, Evelyn comes to us with a smile full of gladness and a step light and airy. "Intent upon her destined course, graceful and useful all she does". She can prepare "Southern Fried Chicken" to perfection!

Myra Bogart

A cold blooded Northerner but a hot suffragette. "None may praise aright nor sing. Half the grace where with like Spring, Love arrays her". A thorough student, self-possessed and efficiency itself. This with her executive ability, originality, and sturdy ambition will make her always a "prominent" citizen and the "best" neighbor in the world."

Elinor Moseley
Kissimmee, Fla.
Theta

Of her ambition as well as her physical stature, one may say, "Great is the height thereof". She looks six feet, six inches, and has the eating capacity that goes therewith. In Elinor we find a cheerful student, a happy classmate, and a true friend. In other words "Let the lessons go hang", "Laugh and the world laughs with you" and "a peach of a girl".

Cola Turner

Program Secretary of Theta, '17.
Chairman Mid-Winter Committee, '18.

A natural gift for interior decoration, planning and all branches of the Arts and Eciences of the Home. Such is her talent indeed that it has been reported that Mr. Hoover has gladly welcomed one of her suggestions for a sugar saver substitute.

Helena Turner.
Auburn, Ky.
Theta.
Treasurer of Theta '17-'18.

Helena came to Maryville in 1916. She is thrifty, energetic, and talented along many lines, especially, domestic Science, Domestic Art, and Domestic "Wise-bakers". She also has a great gift for making friends. We do believe that she will be a Morman, since she is a Southerner, and seems inclined to be both a Northerner, and a Middle Westerner!

A true possessor of the Maryville Spirit, never complains; always knows what she is suppossed to and works like a Trojan. Has an advantage over the rest of us, she took her prep work here. The only member we expect to pass in Household Chemistry. We expect her to go to the very top of Domestic Science.

Organizations

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

In spite of the unrest and unexpected changes during the year the Y. M. C. A. work has been carried on with energy and enthusiasm. In lines of social service the association men have conducted regular Sunday School meetings in the suburbs and afternoon services with the county jail prisoners. Twenty-two magazines were selected for the reading room in the Y. M. C. A. hall. The two study courses offered to the Association members during the year were: "The Social Principles of Jesus", by Rauschenbusch; and "Negro Life in the South", by Dr. Weatherford. A number of joint meetings were held with the Y. W. C. A., the most inspiring of which was the Easter service conducted in the quiet of the early morning.

The Social Committee Chairman provided highly entertaining socials in the college woods and at Dr. Stevenson's home. "Hikes" were very popular in the earlier part of the school year.

The Lyceum Course offered this year was supplied by the Redpath Company. The five numbers were as follows: "Croatian Tamburica Orchestra", "Laurant and Co", "Schumann Quintet", "Edward Amberst Ott", and the "Weber Male Quartett". Never have the numbers been so satisfactory and so well attended.

Fifty dollars was given to the Army Y. M. C. A. Work. Fifty English-French Testaments have been ordered for the army boys who have left the college.

With a corp of strong officers and cabinet members, and, for the first time in the college Y. M. C. A. history, a very substantial fund in the treasury, the year of 1919 smiles with promise upon the Y. M. C. A.

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. for the past year was to unite the girls of Maryville College in loyalty to Jesus Christ, and to lead them to accept Him as their personal Savior; to build them up in the knowledge of Christ, especially thru Bible study and Christian service that their character and conduct may be in accord with their belief. Our organization has thereby, been permitted to associate our girls with the students of the world for the advancement of the Kingdom of God, and to enlist their devotion to the church and to the religious work of the institution.

The devotional meetings have brought to us not only delightful, instructive and practical talks, together with the expression of many talented musicians, but also heart-to-heart talks. The girls have responded in the open meetings as never before which has resulted in an opportunity for not only expressing our own ideas but in the learning of the joy and satisfaction of the life that is worth while.

By the aid of different entertainments together with the calendar sales, dues and donations, our finances have allowed us to give rather pleasing sums toward worthy causes, such as war work fund, Armenian relief, charity work and the addition of several valuable books to each of our two libraries.

Of all the organizations and classes in Maryville College for the young women there is none that will equal in value that of our Young Women's Christian Association. Surely there is not one of our members who has not been amply repaid for all she has put into the pushing forward of this Christian organization.

As we have watched the old year die out taking with it many valuable workers, we, with interest, welcome the new girls who are to enter to fill the vacant places.

The Ministerial Association has every reason to be grateful for the opportunities and blessings of the year 1917-1918. Although, in common with other orgainzations on the hill, the association has been handicapped on account of present conditions, yet it has made reasonable progress.

Mission Work

The work of the Battle Branch Mission has been carried on regularly as in former years. The attendance at both the Sabath School and the Sunday evening meetings has been good. A special Christmas entertaiment was given, and at Easter an egg-hunt in the college woods was provided for the children of that district. Toward the close of the spring term, evangelistic services were conducted by visiting evangelists.

February Meetings

Members of the association took an active part in these meetings, trying to lead others to Christ. The Association cooperated with the Y. M. C. A. in planning for personal work and in conducting daily prayer services in Carnegie Hall. Just before the meetings began, Dr. Stevenson gave a series of talks on personal work.

A few days after the close of the February Meetings a reception was given by the association to all the male students who had received Christ into their lives during the meetings.

Special Features of the Year's Program

As a special feature of the business meeting, a series of talks treating of the "Four-fold Sphere of the Ministry", were given by Dr. Stevenson, Rev. Smith, of the Baptist Church, Prof. Gillingham and Dr. Hoyt. The phases taken by each speaker were, respectively, the minister as a speaker, as a pastor, as a teacher, and as a reformer.

Another feature of the program this year was the discussion of outlines of sermons based on selected texts. The value of these discussions was increased by the suggestions and criticisms of the College Pastor.

The Annual Banquet

The biggest social event of the association was the annual banquet which was held on April 15, at the "House in the Woods". The members were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Stevenson, who through their good-will and generosity, provided the menu of the evening. An unique feature this year was the presence of the lady friends of the members, who were permitted to attend through the courtesy of Dean Caldwell.

Our Soldier Boys

In closing a review of the year 1917-1918, mention should be made of those members of the Association who have left its ranks to enlist in those of our country. At least one of this number, Mr. Jordon, has already reached France. May God in His Infinite Wisdom and devotion, and as far as it coincides with His will spare their lives for further usefulness in the service of Jesus Christ.

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

To the Athenian belongs the distinction of being the oldest student organization on the "hill". Organized in 1868, soon after the college was reopened at the close of the Civil War, the Society has grown in numbers and prosperity along with the college. The year which is just past,—the fiftieth anniversary year,—has been a successful one in many respects for the old Athenian.

The fall term started off well with many boosters on the job, and a reception to new students as the opening event. An unusually strong addition of new men, some of whom were talented musicians, was made to both sections. As a first feature of our semi-centennial celebration we planned to give a Midwinter picturing some especially striking college and literary society activities here in earlier years. But a week before the program was to have been given, so many of the performers left for military service that it was found necessary to concur with the Alpha Sigma society in calling off the Midwinters.

The boys have continued to respond with true Athenian spirit to the call of the country, and it has been a great strain on literary activities to have so many leaving. But we have taken great pride in saying in the reports of our regular meetings, "All persons on the program were present and prepared".

A second and successfully carried out feature of our semi-centennial year was a series of addresses by honored Athenians of the earlier days. The first address was given in the fall term by Dr. S. T. Wilson. He pictured vividly the literary activities and conditions on the "hill" in the early days of the society when he was a student, and drew from these conditions impressive lessons for the students of today. It was one of the most inspiring and helpful addresses given in the society in recent years.

The next of the series was by Prof. H. L. Ellis, graphically setting forth the literary actiivties in general and the Athenian in particular at a period some twenty-five years ago. Lastly, Prof. H. J. Bassett, late in the spring term, showed us in his apt and always interesting way, the literary work as it was carried on during the early days of the twentieth century. The members of the society consider it a great privilege to have heard these splendid addresses.

The third semi-centennial feature was a debt-lifting campaign. A balance on a large debt for the substantial furnisihngs and fittings of our hall remained. The members of the society were leaving, and the Midwinter, a source of income, had not been held, so the prospects were discouraging. During the winter term J. H. Kiger proposed a plan of inaugurating a campaign to raise this money as a semi-centennial feature. He presented the matter to a visiting Athenian, Mr. W. A. Hamman, of Oklahoma, and Mr. Hamman promptly offered a gift to start the fund. A committee was appointed, large plans were made and followed up tirelessly with the purpose of raising the full amount of the debt. The response, both local and from distant Athenians, was surprisingly ready.

On May 11, the culmination of the campaign was celebrated. Mr. Kiger, committee chairman, read his report showing the note of $172.00 paid and a balance of $56. on hand. The note was burned amid boundless enthusiasm. The balance was invested in war saving stamps.

The preparatory section of the society has done especially good work this year and has a wealth of developing talent. In the fall a new hall was prepared for its use, so that both sections could meet at the same time on Saturday evenings.

The Athenian still stands for that for which it has stood these fifty years. As in the heroic days of the great Athenians, of whom we have heard so often this year, we stand for good fellowship, freedom and fun, as well as earenst work, harmony, loyalty to that which is best within and without, but, above all, for real literary work. As the future can be foretold olny by the past and the present, we confidently expect the Athenian Literary Society to do well its part in developing the highest type of Christian manhood in days to come.

The Alpha Sigma Literary Society reports progress, although handicapped by conditions caused by the war. The Junior Section has displayed its usual enthusiasm and activity, while, at the same time, the Senior Section has maintained the high standards and reputation of the society.

One of the first features of the year to be mentioned is the good-will and cooperation that have existed between this society and our Athenian brothers. In many ways this brotherly spirit was manifested. The Alpha Sigma Literary Society sincerely hopes that the fellowship and friendliness of the two boys' societies will continue indefinitely to the edification and prosperity of both organizations.

In past years the literary societies have desired a night for their work that would be free from all other atractions on the "hill". This was impossible due to the fact that both sections were compelled to use the same room. Better conditions were made possible this past year through the generosity and cooperation of the faculty, who gave two classrooms for the use of the Junior sections. These were renovated and made into suitable halls. Saturday evening was set apart by the faculty for the exclusive use of the literary societies.

Although the Mid-winter was canceled due to the large number of participants enlisting in the service of the country, the oratorical contest on Saturday evening, May 25, was one of the best that has ever been held. The M. B. Hunter gold medal was won by Robert W. Adams.

The members of the Alpha Sigma have demonstrated their talent in various ways in the activities on the "hill". As the result of competitive preliminaries, this society furnished five out of eight debaters in the forensic contests with Tusuculum College and Emory and Henry College. The society has also been well represented in the musical organizations on the "hill".

A large number of the members in the course of the year, have enlisted in various branches of the military and naval departments of the service. Almost without exception, these men were leaders in the society, being loyal, devoted, and enthusiastic members. The society extends to these men the sympathy, encouragement and honor that is rightly due to them for their love, devotion, and loyalty to the country.

The hearts of the members of the society were saddened by the loss of one of their most promising brothers, Hal L. Lloyd, who died in the Knoxville General Hospital at 2 p. m. Sunday, Jan. 6, 1918, from an operation for appendicitis.

Althought only eighteen years of age, he had already demonstrated the qualities of a leader and his devotion to the service of his fellowmen. He was faithful in the performance of every duty, a man of true principles, high motives, and worthy ambitions. He was an all-round athlete and possessed remarkable intelligence. He won the first place of the debaters among the new men this past year.

Alpha Sigma

Theta Epsilon

THETA EPSILON

Theta Epsilon has been distinguished this year for real talent and active, earnest endeavors. Her aim has been to develop talent or bring out latent talent and to promote hard work. Her motto has been "growth"—for every member. She has sought to bring out individuality not at the expense of the group, but in order to further the best interests, not only of the individual, but of the society as a whole. Each member, in turn, has contributed her share towards the social and literary development of the society. A good basketball team was a feature of the recreational side of the year's program. The programs as a whole have been wide awake and profitable. Theta Epsilon is stronger now, we feel, than ever before. Then let us not forget the high standards for which she was founded and for which she has stood so gloriously throughout the years of her existence, but let us press on to greater and nobler work, discarding whatever of the old is useless and adopting whatever of the new is for the greatest good to the individual, the society and the college and so to mankind, and always bearing in mind that the supreme end of all college activities is—Service.

Athletic Board of Control

FOOTBALL

The season of 1917 saw football suffer greatly at Maryville as well as in many other colleges and universities. In many institutions the schedules of all athletic contests were dropped completely. Five institutions with which Maryville had scheduled games canceled their contracts thus making it extremely difficult for Manager Bryson to rearrange a well-balanced schedule. According to a decision of the Directors at their semi-annual session in February, Maryville will have no intercollegiate football next year.

About forty men answered the first call for practice but of these there were only three letter men and a very few former "scrubs". Within two weeks Coach Brown had whipped into shape a very formidable machine, as was shown in a practice game with Polk County High School on the local gridiron, in which the Highlanders won by the score of 52-0.

The team did not have the services of the captain-elect, Greer, but in Clemens a most efficient leader was found. Coupled with him and his brilliant work at quarter was Bryson at fullback with his six years' experience. Around these two was built the offence of the Highlanders.

Two games were played with Tusculum; the opening game of the season at Knoxville and the closing game on Thanksgiving Day at Maryville. In both contests the Highlanders were victorious over their ancient rivals.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is assuming a place among the activities on the "hill" and many responded to the call for candidates. Two men from the year before answered, but as Clemens and Witherspoon were guards it remained to find some forwards and centers. Clemens left school and the problem became larger.

Eagleton was elected captain and played center durig the season. Drake was a star of the first degree in tossing baskets. In Wagner, a Freshman, was discovered a good floor man, a surety on fouls, and an exceptional forward. Weisbecker was a worthy team mate. With Drake at standing guard and Witherspoon to cover the floor, Maryville boasts of two men whose equals at guarding, speed, and team work are seldom seen.

Only one game was lost, that to U. T., but this was reversed later on the home floor. As a grand finale, the team won four straight victories on a trip. This is a record no previous team from the "hill" has been able to do. The play all season was marked for its cleanness and general team-work two most essential requisites.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the season the outlook for a successful team was not so bright. But early in the fall Coach Lois Wilson started the practice and, by hard and persistent work on the part of the members of the squad, an excellent team was soon ready to play the first game of the season.

Under the coaching of Miss Wilson, a former Maryville star, the team soon learned the fine points of the game and came through the season a winner. At forwards Captain Marshall, Davis and Webb, played their positions in a commendable way. At center the playing of Moseley and Webb made that position a center of strength. The team was no less fortunate at guards for the playing of Davis, Burchfiel and Nuckols was of the very best quality.

The girls have upheld the distinction Maryville has earned of always putting out Championship teams, for once or twice Maryville has held the Southern Championship. Three games were played at home and six away. Only two were lost, one to the University of Chattanooga and one to the East Tenessee State Normal. The team, as a tribute to its success, took more trips this year than any of the teams of previous years. It is hoped that this may continue.

BASEBALL

The baseball season of 1918 has closed with Maryville victorious in half its contests. From a squad of inexperienced players there was developed a team which upheld the record of Maryville among the colleges of her class. The team, as a whole, was a new one, and when the call went out for practice there were fewer experienced players on hand than at any time in recent years.

The team's fielding average was low owing to the inexperience of the players. Altho ten games were lost, only in four did Maryville have the smallest number of earned runs. But continual errors lost games.

With the stick the Highlanders far outclassed their opponents. batting .252, while those against her only hit .182. LaRue was the most dependable pitcher with five victories out of eight games to his credit. Scruggs lost several games, but at that pitched good ball.

Perhaps no other team of recent years has had as hard a schedule. Facing three university teams in contest after contest is no easy task for a team of inexperienced college players, and the team should be highly commended for its excellent showing against them.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

The Highland Echo is a weekly paper published by the students of Maryville College. This year marks the completion of the third volume. The paper has improved each year unde efficient editorship and managership. J. H. Turner, who was elected editor for this year, proved himself very capable at his work. He left during the fall term to join the army and Robert L. Taylor was elected as his successor. Mr. Taylor has made an enviable success in "The Editor's Easy Chair". Frank H. Scruggs, Business Manager, has handled his work in an efficient and business-like way. It is due to his efforts that we are having two additional numbers to volume three. The editors and reporters are to be commended for their promptness and accuracy in the handling of material. The paper for the last two years has been published by the Maryville Enterprise, and the next year's contract has been placed with that firm.

BOB ADAMS EDITOR, SHEFFEY BUS. MGR. OF FOURTH VOLUME

The competition for the positions of Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager of The Highland Echo for next year was held Tuesday evening, April 30th. The committee of judges were Professors Knapp and Davis, faculty representatives, and Miss Marie Townsend and Robert L. Taylor, student represenatitves.

The results of the competition, as approved by the faculty, make Robert W. Adams the new Editor and Phil Sheffey the new Manager. Both men are members of the Junior Class and expect to return to school next year.

Mr. Sheffey lives in Maryville and is acquainted with the business men of the town, and should have little difficulty in handling the business end of the Echo. Mr. Adams is a member of the present staff and is familiar with the "ins" and "outs" of editing a college paper.

Under the leadership and direction of these two capable men the fourth volume of the Echo should be a credit to the student body and the college.

FORENSIC LEAGUE

Since the formation of the Forensic League it has developed into one of the prominent organizations on Colege Hill. Its membership consists not only of intercollegiate debaters but also of all men who are definitely interested in debating and literary activities. The worth of the League has been well demonstrated during the past year, in stimulating a needed interest in its activities. The debaters put out by the League have given an excellent account of themselves, upholding a splendid record of previous years. After two strenuous preliminaries the following teams were chosen:

Tusculum Debate

Affirmative at Home	Negative at Tusculum
Vincent Hamilton	F. G. Cooper
David Briggs	Robert Bartlett
Robert Adams	James Martin

The question debated was: Resolved, "That there should be a League of Nations to enforce peace". Both teams were thoroughly prepared and well able to uphold their respective sides of the question. Our affirmative was victorious by a vote of two to one while the decision at Tusculum was two to one against our negative.

In a dual debate with Emory and Henry Maryville won her first Forensic victory over that College. The question for debate was: Resolved: "That the Federal Government should own and control all public utilities of national importance". The only debate was at Maryville where the home team composed of Glen A. Lloyd and Oscar Stanton won an unanimous victory for the affirmative.

Forensic activities at Maryville are on a better financial basis than ever before. A regular forensic fee is charged all students at the beginning of each term. This is a marked advance over any previous system and will enable the league to greatly extend and develop its future activities.

The League is deeply indebted to the Faculty Representative, Prof. G. A. Knapp, whose untiring efforts and thorough coaching made possible a winning team. The other officers for the League are: Horace Dawson, President; Deck Williams, Vice-President; Robert Adams, Secretary and Treasurer.
